AIMEC Token - Smart Contract Security Statement

Token Name: AIMEC (AI Meme Art Chain)

Contract Address: 0x073d2912d883351fc200fc539b04520832f6d47d

Website: <https://aimemechain.com>

Ownership and Permissions:

- The AIMEC token contract ownership has been fully renounced.
- The 'owner()' function returns 0x00.
- No address has the authority to execute privileged functions.
- Although a whitelist function was originally included to protect against sniping during launch, it is now permanently unusable.

Security Clarification:

- GoPlusLabs recently flagged the token with "Has Whitelist" and "Hidden Owner". Both are incorrect.
- "Has Whitelist" is not an active function and cannot be used.
- "Hidden Owner" is a false positive based on residual code structure. There are no functions granting control to any hidden address.

Top Holder Distribution:

- While the top 10 holders collectively hold a high percentage of AIMEC tokens, this does not include the deployer or owner.
- According to GoPlusLabs:
 - Owner's Holdings: 0.00 (0.00%)
 - Creator's Holdings: 0.00 (0.00%)

This confirms that there is no centralized control or security threat related to ownership. All critical permissions have been eliminated.

This document is published by the AIMEC Token development team to confirm smart contract security transparency and to address automated scanner platform inaccuracies.
